Now That I've Seen Her

Reference number PT0957

It's alright,
it's alright when I can just imagine
There's no face, she is not real
And I can tell myself it's all okay.

But she's here.
and my heart cries this isn't happening.
But the truth is cold and real and I know the storm won't go away.

Now that I've seen her there's no way to hide.
She is not some fling from long ago.
Now that I've seen her I know why he lied.
And I think it was better when I didn't know.

In her eyes,
in her voice
in the heat that filled the air, part of him still lingers there
I know what pain her life today must be.
But if it all comes down to her or me,
I don't care I swear, I'll fight.

Now that I've seen her she's more than a name
I don't hate this girl even so.
Now that I've seen her I can't stay the same.
Who's the man that I've always trusted?
Now I have to know.
